Chain Link Tension Bands

The Chain Link Tension Bands play a crucial role in the structural integrity of your fence system by securing the tension bar to the post, which in turn holds the chain link fencing fabric taut. These posts are often used as gate posts for a chain link fence or as corner posts for high fences. The galvanized tension band secures the tension bar to these structural pillars, ensuring that the heavy fabric remains immovable. Without high-quality tension bands, the mesh would sag, compromising both the appearance and the security of the perimeter. (please note this is sold as the tension band only)
